2 Getting Started

We recommend that you:

- Unpack the equipment carefully and save the original box and packaging materials for possible future shipment
- Review the contents of this user manual

Go to www.kramerav.com/downloads/VP-510 to check for up-to-date user manuals, application programs, and to check if firmware upgrades are available (where appropriate).

2.1 Achieving the Best Performance

To achieve the best performance:

- Use only good quality connection cables (we recommend Kramer high-performance, high-resolution cables) to avoid interference, deterioration in signal quality due to poor matching, and elevated noise levels (often associated with low quality cables)
- Do not secure the cables in tight bundles or roll the slack into tight coils
- Avoid interference from neighbouring electrical appliances that may adversely influence signal quality
- Position your VP-510 away from moisture, excessive sunlight and dust

This equipment is to be used only inside a building. It may only be connected to other equipment that is installed inside a building.

2.2 Safety Instructions

Caution: There are no operator serviceable parts inside the unit

Warning: Use only the Kramer Electronics power supply that is provided with the unit

Warning: Disconnect the power and unplug the unit from the wall before installing

2.3 Recycling Kramer Products

The Waste Electrical and Electronic Equipment (WEEE) Directive 2002/96/EC aims to reduce the amount of WEEE sent for disposal to landfill or incineration by requiring it to be collected and recycled. To comply with the WEEE Directive, Kramer Electronics has made arrangements with the European Advanced Recycling Network (EARN) and will cover any costs of treatment, recycling and recovery of waste Kramer Electronics branded equipment on arrival at the EARN facility. For details of Kramer's recycling arrangements in your particular country go to our recycling pages at <http://www.kramerelectronics.com/support/recycling/>.

3 Overview

The VP-510 is a down-converter for 4K HDMI signals. The unit takes a 4K resolution input, provides a loop output and down-converts it to 2K resolution. It allows the use of legacy equipment with the latest 4K signals.

When used with a non-4K (or unsupported 4K) input source, the input is routed to the output with no down-conversion or scaling.

The VP-510 features:

- A maximum data rate of 10.2Gbps (3.4Gbps per graphic channel)
- HDMI signal downscaling from 4K UHD to 2K / 1080p
- HDMI support for 3D, Deep Color, x.v.Color™, Dolby® TrueHD, Dolby Digital Plus, DTS-HD® and 7.1 multi-channel audio
- Support for HDMI 1.4 and HDCP 1.4
- 4K resolution down-scaling for 4096x2160p@24Hz and 3840x2160p@24/25/30Hz
- HDMI signal bypass for resolutions that are not down-scaled
- A simultaneous HDMI output (loop)
- EDID bypass of loop output

3.1 Defining the VP-510 4K to 2K Down-Converter

This section defines the VP-510.

2	BYPASS LED	Lights when a source is connected and the signal is bypassed to the OUTPUT connector
3	4K IN LED	Lights when a 4K source that can be downscaled is connected. The downscaled signal is available on the OUTPUT connector
4	OUTPUT CONNECTED LED	Lights when an output device is connected
5	INPUT HDMI Connector	Connects to an HDMI source
6	LOOP HDMI Connector	Connects to a display
7	OUTPUT HDMI Connector	Connects to a 1080p/2K acceptor
8	PROG USB Connector	Used for upgrading the firmware

4 Connecting the VP-510

Always switch off the power to each device before connecting it to your VP-510. After connecting your VP-510, connect its power and then switch on the power to each device.

Note: The EDID is read through the loop output. The last EDID connected is saved as a default for when there is no connection to the loop output.

To connect the VP-510 as illustrated in the example in Figure 2:

1. Connect a 4K HDMI source (for example, a Blu-ray player) to the INPUT HDMI connector.
2. If desired, connect an HDMI acceptor (for example, a 4K display) to the LOOP HDMI connector.
3. Connect the OUTPUT HDMI connector to an HDMI acceptor (for example, a 2K display).
4. Connect a 5V DC power supply to the 5V DC connector to power on the device.
